Expert Reviews:

Edmunds.com: High-tech entertainment features; nifty automated parking option; hybrid model's impressive fuel economy.

KBB.com: Like the rugged look of the old Ford Explorer and Jeep Cherokee, but don't want to deal with the truck-like ride, poor fuel economy and bulky size? The 2012 Ford Escape offers all the creature comforts of a car with the tall ride height and AWD ability of an SUV.

CarAndDriver.com: Offering two engine choices, as well as a hybrid option for the Escape, they're distinguished by trucklike styling, brisk performance, and strong fuel economy.

Manufacturer's website: The Escape features comfortable eco-friendly cloth seat fabric made from 100 percent post-industrial materials.

Consumer Guide: A low, level load deck and opening tailgate glass make for handy cargo loading and hauling.

High ratings for a particular product/service/company do not necessarily mean that every customer will have a positive experience. It simply indicates that, on average, consumer perceptions of the product/service/company indicate that it stands out when compared with competitive products/services/companies.
